Bushy Martin is on a mission to wake up and shake up hard working Aussie families to get invested in their future, and create the lifestyle they really want.

Bushy does this as a property investment strategist, author and commentator.

And he walks the talk, as a successful property investor with a portfolio that funds his $200,000 per year lifestyle income, giving him the time and freedom to enjoy life and invest in people, not just property.

Bushy is the founder of property finance strategy firm, KnowHow Property, where he operates as an investment strategist, or 'Start-egist' as he prefers to call it, providing investors with finance architecture, brokering and 'secret service' investment protection! In this role he has helped over 2000 Aussies secure over $1 billion in property and live by design.

As Australia's most respected property educators, Bushy also anchors Australia's top property podcast, Property Hub, which is part of Southern Cross Austereo's national network of podcasts, and is an award winning author of The Freedom Formula and Get Invested.
